BL565-1 Jewish Literature at the Time of Jesus: Introduction and Comparison with the New Testament

Classroom 4

10–11:50am

This course introduces writings that were important to various Jewish groups but were not included in either the Old or New Testament. We will read excerpts from the Apocrypha, Pseudepigrapha, Dead Sea Scrolls, Rabbinic Literature, Philo, and Josephus. We will discuss their continuity and discontinuity with the teaching of Jesus and his apostles. Special attention will be given to those ideas that continue to separate Christianity and Judaism today.

CH501-o History of World Christianity I: Early Christianity to the Reformation

This course will help you deepen your understanding of the faith as you trace the growth of Christianity from Pentecost to early Protestantism. Sharpen your discernment as you engage both the tensions of intercultural transmission as well as the transitions occasioned by new historical contexts. We will tackle early church debates over Christology, Canon and Christendom, as well as track the development of church government, piety, sacraments and theology into the "middle ages" and up to the early modern calls for reform. All along, you will marvel at how the faith for the last time delivered to the saints is freshly articulated in contexts as diverse as Ireland, Ethiopia, India and China.

3 credits Lecturer: Dr. Brian Arnold Instructor: Dr. Kyle DiRoberts Frequency: Every Semester (online) Prerequisite: None

CH502-o History of World Christianity II: Reformation and Globalization

Christianity has always been a global faith, quickly spreading north, south, east and west of Palestine. However, around the 16th century that process expanded greatly, as missionaries and immigrants brought Christianity to Asia, Africa and the Americas. At the same time, reformers were calling for a return to early Christian belief and practice in Europe. The twin processes of globalization and reformation characterized ensuing centuries of Christian development, as increasingly diverse European Christians sought to spread their faith to newly encountered people and continents. You will track this evangelicalism as both a result of European reformations and participant in further globalizations. Finally, you will be asked to integrate this knowledge with your own spiritual, theological and vocational commitments.

3 credits Lecturer and Instructor: Dr. Brian Arnold Frequency: Every Semester (online) Prerequisite: None

IS501-o Cross-Cultural and Diversity Competency

Doctor of Ministry

DM760-1 Spiritual Replenishment for the Experienced Ministry Leader

Classroom 6

8:00am – 4:50pm Monday, January 14 – Thursday, January 11

One of the biggest challenges of long-term ministry is the self-care of the leader. Whether you are a church pastor, missionary, parachurch leader or counselor, everyone (maybe even you) thinks that your spiritual and emotional energy should always be brimming over. Moreover, if it is not, and it is usually not, we think something is wrong with us. This course is intended to bring to you a kind of spiritual formation that is appropriate for the veteran shepherd and leader. Who shepherds the leader? Jesus does. Come find out how.

3 credits Instructor: Dr. Stephen Macchia Frequency: Occasional Prerequisite: None

Notes: Course is only open to students admitted to the Doctor of Ministry program or Visiting Doctor of Ministry students.
