CH501-o History of World Christianity I: Early Christianity to the Reformation

This course will help you deepen your understanding of the faith as you trace the growth of Christianity from Pentecost to early Protestantism. Sharpen your discernment as you engage both the tensions of intercultural transmission as well as the transitions occasioned by new historical contexts. We will tackle early church debates over Christology, Canon and Christendom, as well as track the development of church government, piety, sacraments and theology into the "middle ages" and up to the early modern calls for reform. All along, you will marvel at how the faith for the last time delivered to the saints is freshly articulated in contexts as diverse as Ireland, Ethiopia, India and China.

3 credits Lecturer: Dr. Brian Arnold Instructor: Dr. Kyle DiRoberts Frequency: Every Semester (online) Prerequisite: None

CH502-o History of World Christianity II: Reformation and Globalization

Christianity has always been a global faith, quickly spreading north, south, east and west of Palestine. However, around the 16th century that process expanded greatly, as missionaries and immigrants brought Christianity to Asia, Africa and the Americas. At the same time, reformers were calling for a return to early Christian belief and practice in Europe. The twin processes of globalization and reformation characterized ensuing centuries of Christian development, as increasingly diverse European Christians sought to spread their faith to newly encountered people and continents. You will track this evangelicalism as both a result of European reformations and participant in further globalizations. Finally, you will be asked to integrate this knowledge with your own spiritual, theological and vocational commitments.

DM787-1 Project Research and Design

Classroom 4

8:00am – 4:50pm Monday, January 13 – Thursday, January 16

This is a core doctoral course in basic research and design. Emphasis is given to determining a dissertation theme, writing and research skills, and putting together a proposal. Recognizing that the DMin degree requires the demonstration of substantive research and a practical, yet sufficiently academic project component upon completion of the program, this course is designed to introduce students to the proposal process and lay foundational skills in research to enable successful progress toward project requirements. This course is required for all students entering the DMin program after January 1, 2016 and optional for all others.

3 credits

Instructor: Dr. Reid Kisling

Frequency: Every third year

Prerequisite: None, but this course is only open to students admitted to the Doctor of Ministry program or Visiting Doctor of Ministry students.
